Hello and welcome to the June newsletter!

This is our monthly newsletter that gives you some news and updates about what is going on with DistanceLearningCentre.com, our staff and our learners.

This month many of our learners completed their diploma for June moderation. We want to congratulate our learners on this fantastic achievement.

Completed for June Moderation- what now?

Congratulations on meeting the June moderation deadline!

We know how hard you have worked to meet this deadline, and we hope you have got all the grades you need to go onto to your desired course. Many of you have already applied and received offers for university which is great.

You receive your diploma results on the 18th August 2022, the same day as A-level results day. Keep an eye on your UCAS track for latest updates about your place, and for your next steps.

UCAS have a guide that can help answer questions about what happens when you get your results.

However, if you haven't already applied, or got the grades you hoped for- don't panic! Take a look at the UCAS website on late applications, as you still have time to apply for many courses.

If you haven't met the requirements of your offer you can also find out about clearing, as there may be other options that still mean you could go to university this year.

Keep an eye out in your emails for updates about certification from exams@distancelearningcentre.com. It is a good idea to send a quick email to the exams email address as this helps to ensure emails from them don't go into your junk / spam folder. We will also include details of certification in the next newsletter.

Do you want to feature on our Hall of Fame?

Learners going through June moderation can send their photo and testimonial to be featured on our Hall of Fame, in our What Students Say section.

This a great way to share your experiences with new learners, celebrating your success and helping others who might want to complete a diploma!

We also have the Awards of Achievement. Click the link here to find out more.

Are you going away this summer?

There is nothing worse than being on holiday and being pestered about work or your studies.

If you are going on holiday, we understand that you want to have a break away from your studies. Please do let your tutor know you are going away, and if you would prefer not to be contacted in that time, then we can avoid interrupting your well deserved break away.

BBC Four Programme- Secrets of Size

There is a great new programme on BBC Four about the size of the universe.

This may be interesting for our science diploma learners, as the first episode looks at the differences in size between cells and atoms, including viruses, and the use of an electron microscope.

You can find this on BBC catch-up here.

Where are they now?

Each monthly newsletter will therefore be featuring a testimonial, in which our previous learners will share some great advice about studying for your Diploma and beyond!

Jessica Brydon completed an Access to Paramedicine Diploma in 2019 achieving amazing grades, and went on to study Adult Nursing at the University of Cardiff!

"My advice would be to experience areas outside of your comfort zone while you are a student and don't yet have a pin! I have been on an ITU Covid ward, in Cardiff prison, psychiatric wards, theatres and pediatric wards to broaden my knowledge outside of adult nursing. Do what scares you and you will surprise yourself!

The essay writing practice and referencing from DistanceLearningCentre.com has greatly helped me at university. Due to this I regularly score well in my essays and research proposals. Meanwhile the biology and psychology modules have given me a strong foundation for the higher levels of human biology. I am in 3rd year about to start my final placement! It has flown by quicker than I could have imagined.

Work hard and you will achieve. If I could see myself 3 years ago I would not have believed how far I have come. Thank you so much for giving me a second chance at a bright future, DistanceLearningCentre.com!"
